

Secular and Religious Archaic Terms from Archive Documents of the Parishes Bejan, Mintia (Hunedoara) and Fabric – Timișoara

Cosmin PANTURU

Les termes archaïques, les archaïsmes signifient des mots, des expressions, des formes phonétiques ou grammaticaux qui ne s'utilisent plus au présent. Pour les trois unités étudiées Mintia et Bejan situées à proximité de la ville de Deva et respectivement Fabric à proximité de la ville de Timișoara, ces termes s'intègrent des années 1845-1945 pour les paroisses de Hunedoara et des années 1830-1930 pour la paroisse de Timisoara. Deux écritures holographes datées du 1698 et 1713 apparues en Munténie dans deux livres de culte ont été employés dans la paroisse de Fabric grâce à la circulation des livres dans les provinces roumaines. Les mots employés notamment au discours religieux se retrouvent au langage simple des quels qui l'ont employé. Certains archaïsmes (peu à nombre) sont utilisés même aujourd'hui, notamment dans les zones rurales Mintia et Bejan, en retrouvant les locuteurs natifs qui les ont appris en les entendant de leurs parents. Les autres archaïsmes comme ceux du quartier Fabric de Timișoara, ne s'utilisent plus de nos jours grâce à l'évolution et au développement de la langue roumaine. Tous les archaïsmes ont un caractère spécifique même attractif (pourquoi pas ?), donné des temps passés, mais qui maintient la beauté de la vieille langue de Transylvanie et du Banat.

Archaic terms, i.e. archaisms consist of obsolete, that is unused words, phrases, phonetic and grammatical forms in present times. We studied three church units: Mintia and Bejan, in the vicinity of Deva town (Hunedoara County) or Fabric from Timisoara. These terms fall in the period 1845-1945 for Hunedoara parishes, respectively from 1830 to 1930 for the parish of Timisoara. For the present study, concerning the Fabric parish, we used two handwritten writings dated 1698 and 1713, that had been found in two books of worship in Muntenia (because of the religious books movement in Romanian provinces). In our text, the archaisms found in the documents are given in italics and their significance is highlighted in the same way in parentheses, indicating the source of their interpretation. To explain these terms I used different dictionaries¹ in electronic format; for some I used my knowledge, but for others I did not find their present meaning.

For Mintia and Bejan, the oldest notes were kept in books of worship². On a Menaion and Apostle or General Menaion (1781), two notes dated 1845 refer to the costs of restoring some prints and to some weather phenomena. Thus, for the restoration of several books “the church paid 14 zloți de aramă (name given in Transylvania for the Austrian florins - DER) for nine *dărab*e (pieces - DEX) of books”. “On Christmas Day it snowed all day. On the fifth day Saturday... it was cloudy and bad wind all day long, but s-au turnat (it changed direction - DER). On the sixth day, Sunday morning, it morgurat rain and mist and in de sară (in the evening - Șăineanu; Scriban) – there was nice weather ...”.

The handwritten text from the Apostle dated 1856 (Rîmnic, 1747) indicates that bishop Alexandru Șterca Șuluțiu “... au sălășluit (dwelt, lived) in Hunedoara at the parish cvartiriul at the most-honoured Archpriest Mr. Ioann E. Fodor ... and was waited at the place where the triumphant porta (gate) was erected...”.

When purchasing a Pentecostarion (Sibiu, 1859), the priest who administered the parish notes that “he globitu (fined, here in church language by “fine” is meant a canon, a correction, a material one in this case, probably applied in the Sacrament of Confession - DAR) on the apiarist (beekeeper) Crișanu Toma from Bizani with 4 florins A.(ustrian) C.(urrency) and this globiți money were given to help buying a book. Kajnilu, January 10, 1862, Avram Suciu factu priest” (“de facto” priest is a diplomatic formula to recognize a certain situation, which did not acquire the necessary legal consecration - MDN). He also donated the church a silver chalice that is engraved: “Besian (Bejan - our note) Avram suei (himself, his) of remembrance 1877”.

A note from the Triodion (Blaj, 1890) testifies that “since the first year of the holy union in 1875 we had not a Triodion until June 10, 1890 that the undersigned believers conferred with elimosina”.

On the Apostle (Sibiu, 1917) it is written: “it was purchased in 1925 by the good Christians Gheorghe Berariu and Saveta Vasiu through the persistence of the parish manager Avram Laslău and we legăm (bind, make a covenant, here, perhaps with

The Book of Akathists (Blaj, 1816) conceals a record, this time personal, of one of the church officers “Râmătoarea (the sow - Scriban) was erit on August 9 1891 by a ghier (uncastrated pig, boar - DEX)”.

Ecclesiastical terms

The word Greek-oriental or Greek-Orthodox used in many notes designates the ancient name of the Orthodox Church which highlights the ethnic and geographic origin and membership of the Romanian Orthodox Church to the universal Church. Thus, in 1893, the priest Nicolae Berar was “priest of the Greek-Oriental church in Mintia”³. On a copy of Kiriadodromion (Sibiu, 1855) it is specified that “This book that we call Speeches belongs to the gr.(eek) – or.(iental) Holy Church of Bejan, bought by Bejan village with 10 f.m.k.i. year of G(od) (1)855⁴. On a Pentecostarion (Sibiu, 1859) it is written that “this holy book was bought on behalf of our gr.(eek) - or.(thodox) Holy Church from Mintia with the price of 12 florins, money taken from the treasury of the Church through my intercession in y(ear) 1882 23/3. Berariu-priest”.

The church village (parish) was organized as *materă*⁵ (parish, church mother - DR; parish - SIN). In time some filii were added (branches, small affiliates). Priest Aron Munteanu stated: “... I was, however, unhappy when in my parish materă and filii no priest showed at the conference ...”⁶. Among the objects of the church include: three wooden crosses, a țiuțoare (ark, special box) for the Holy Communion, mășărițe (tablecloths - DEX), towels, etc.⁷. In the bell tower the campane (or compa, bell - MDN) weighed 87 kg⁸.

On July 14, 1899, the protopope of Deva exhorts the priest from Fornădia that “the accounting documents he will return him regarding the rațiociniul of the parish (old name for the current “income and expenditure budget” prepared by

On the back of several icons appear the word spreînnoit (correctly preînnoi meaning to upgrade, restore, renew, renovate - SIN) used by painters for the restoration of icons. For example the icon of St. Nicholas from 1778 or the Virgin Mary with Child and Saviour (some dated the second half of the 18th century). After trying to restore it there is a record: “It was spreînnoitu in 1904. Blaszc Veronica, mother of Popa Aron. Maler (painter of icons - DAR), painter Franz Teshel”¹⁰. The term is used for other more extensive repair: “The tower was spreînnoitu and church was şindrilit”¹¹ (covered with shingle - NODEX).

Common Terms

At Bejan the rectory was covered with *prăştilă*¹² (shingles - Şăineanu). This material was used for private households too. The chapel was made of old wood of *lascobe de gorun-stugeni (peeled oak)*¹³. The houses designed for the priest were very large consisting of two bodies and a conie (room, summer kitchen), made of wood and covered with *prăştilă*¹⁴. The roof of the school corridor “is so weak that from the teacher’s chilia (small living room, small room - DLRM) until the school he had to pass under a parapleu (umbrella); the banks stumbled and are not provided with puiucuri (drawers), the teacher has no chair or table in the sala de propunere (meeting room) and room care of the sală scolastică (classroom) is entrusted to the children ...”¹⁵.

“They receive docentele (teacher) in cvartiriu (temporary dwelling; host - DEX). However, they will not sit in the homes of the un-united because they hosted them in a house, where the docentele sat with another man who was smith with his muierea (wife) in cvartiriu. The priest took in arendă (rented) Mr. Saidelhöfer Ianos’ homes with 130 fl. /year...”¹⁶.

One of the religious school teachers in Mintia, Augustin Pop- Bociat, talks about the importance of the union in 1918, the meeting for election and a delegation of representatives to the National Assembly in Alba Iulia: “In a măduoasă (energetic) speech he shows that today we have to decide on what we value most and he asks the people coadunat (gathered) there to elect trusted men among them. The people ... exmite (appoints, proposes, delegates) six members of

In 1901, the priest also got "debilitat (weak, feeble, frail - DEX) due to old age and morb and could not manage the parish and subsidiaries"²⁰. Finally, "priest Teodosie Lupșa repausând (dying - DR), the locals pleaded in front of the Greek Orthodox archpriest to make teacher Ioan Lupșa their priest, anglo-saxon he was the repausat (departed) priest's son"²¹.

After frequent interventions before ecclesiastical authority, priest Lupșa was called "to have a different cauțiune (attitude, behavior) towards the people (...). And until making a stone church the faithful should build a smaller one of wood, which is much easier to build and lezne"²² (cheap - DER). The swarm got out of basket will not wait to come the coșnița (bee rush basket - DRAM) of glajă (glass) from distant cities and if the basket is made of offshoot the swarm should be taken out of it, otherwise the cluster runs in the woods..."²⁴.

To another cleric who did not received his salary for a longer period of time they recommended to be "with paciență (patience - Șăineanu). And for the last 3-4 months they are all with paciență..."²⁵.

Probably because of the too low payment, and the shuttle he was supposed to do, in order to more revenue, “the teacher brings sugar whistling and bomboț (candy) to sell them to the pupils... On March 9th birăița (the mayor’s wife) went to school to light a fire for the children because it was cold. They were ready to fight each other. The birăița came pe ponoslu (with complaint - Șăineanu). I can’t do anything about it because for fiece (everything) the teacher says to children: go to your popa (priest) pe ponaslu (to complaint)”²⁶!

Not being able to take certain steps in the establishment of a new cult, the people involved asked: “Can this insinuate (subtle way of making another to receive your opinions - Scriban) to remain in tărie (valid, legal)? I pray God to give him tărie (power) and virtue to be able to defeat all bater (at least, even - DER) only contrarii (those against) and pizmașii (the envious) did not cease to dezbate (divide) them...”²⁷. They wanted the started action not to delay unduly in time, lest the people desporindu-se (lessen) it will lead to our *scădere*²⁸ (reduction).

However, the priest Toma Nistor show that in 1733 the church is suscepută (regarded) as united parish, but later it defecționat, and only in 1875 was restored²⁹, but the people from Mintia did not maculat (spotted, stained - DER) anyone. Finally the faithful being in “most dezolațiune”³⁰ (great devastation, extreme sorrow - Scriban) by contributing according to their “debile”³¹ (modest – our note) ability, bought the site to build the church.

On the other hand some clergymen thought that “some people made priests even from păcurari (shepherds - Șăineanu) with no culture and from murari (owner of a mill or its leader - Scriban) for simonie ...”³² (bribes).

Units, taxes, subsidies, guarantees

To have a new priest the people must show they want him and undertake to support their priest as following: how many mertice (old measure for grain, equal to about. 1-2 ocale - DEX; small bushel of twenty ocale - Șăineanu) of food and how many working days per year with hand and with yoke³³. They finally decide “to organize a competition in which to specify the following conditions: a salary of 150 florins; 50 metrete of stripped corn in nature with 50 florins; 4 orgi of firewood, which was to heat the school and cortelul (residence, home) of the teacher and the priest from Mintia should not join the reformed school nor should receive the Greek Orthodox docentele (teacher) until he receives the decision from the Venerable Order”³⁴.

“To repair the church and rectory in cases of shortage it was assigned according to the fumuri (house number, ie a parish families, household - NODEX) by 20-50% fumuri and not infrequently, 150-200%. In these ten very weak economic years the believers exhauriat (exhausted) the former material almost completely, leaving even the churches in a deplorable state and they almost cannot help them at all. To support the priests and the cantors (singers), the believers should contribute with the so-called adeu (cult contribution of a believer - SIN) of 20 liter (unit of weight equal to a quarter of a kilogram - NODEX) consisting of 15 cupe (measure for liquids more than one liter, respectively mug, bowl having this ability - DEX) de cucuruz (corn), which, however, in most cases, and especially today, on time of resbel (war - Șăineanu) cannot collect at all due to the economic misery of the faithful”³⁵. Therefore the parishioners did not pay to the teacher the 2 cupe (measure for liquids - DEX) of cucucruz (corn) in grain...³⁶.

The political authorities threatened and forced the believers to raise a proper stone school according to the law, requiring 10 ogi of stone and 10000 bricks³⁷. For the religious school building, people gave no more than 5 cruceri in Austrian currency after florenul de dare (tax). However, for the public school, the count will pay 100 florins after *florenul de dare*³⁸. The confessional school could be supported from the Innkeepers tax and “censul of the school (annuity in money or nature specific for the feudal society and owed to the lord by the owner of land - DEX) will be cover from the rent of râtului (plain along a flowing river with grass for mowing or grazing - DEX) of the annual communal pasture...”³⁹.

In 1904, “the mayor Iosif Lupșa – one of the three children of priest Ioan Lupșa, who was not counted among erezii (heirs) of the deceased Ioan, because he contributed nothing to spesele (expenses) for the funeral of his father nor did go to the grave of his deceased parent- did not deposit to a certain institute 240 crowns from sheep grazing in the border village of Mintia...”⁴⁰.

In the studied rural area over time, “priest is exposed to destruction: very little earth, eclejie (meadows and land owned by the church, the local parish; are place names frequently in Maramures - DRAM); we do not receive adăul anymore of malevolence and impossibility; no parish house; few and poor parishioners that stola (income earned by the priest from the altar service - DAR) is void ...”⁴¹. How much stola (would be needed - Ed) for each sacred and parochial service⁴²? Many times the clergyman did not receive “the legal adăul, of which the priests of this parish support their living”⁴³.

Since incomes were very low, the priest was to give the teacher lecticalul (adăul) received from parishioners, namely: 50 measures of cucuruz of 1 florin a measure (50 florins). In case the subsidiul (subsidy) might return to the teacher with 30 florins he was to get 80 florins in the future years. It notes that “during the latter years the adeul was cut off by the people under the pretext that the priest receives the congruă (the minimum income any servant of the church need to have; state interest for the church loans - DAR). The parish cannot arânda (temporary leasing of rights to use certain goods in return for payment; lease - DRAM) a house cheaper than 1000 crowns as there are no houses de arândat”⁴⁴.

Because of the many loans, the bonds of Greek-Catholic faithful from Mintia will be străpune (transposed) by the political judge in the possession of the remaining Greco-Orientals along with the collection of outstanding cametelor (interest above the legal fees - Șăineanu)...”⁴⁵. This is why the “Archpriest’s trip cannot be supported by the parish as crucerii (creștarii, bănuții, gologanii - DAR) received on Sundays and holidays are given to Fekete George for paying progăzii (courtyard of a church used as a cemetery - DEX)⁴⁶.

Teacher Augustin Pop-Bociat complained to the Archpriest: “The priest does not solvește (pay - DEX) the fee established by the diocesan statutes, while only 5 families (out of 60) give me the lecticul and priest shared the prosphora according to his pleasure. From 7 Liturgies (here: prosphoras), the priest has 4/7, cantor has 2/7, and clisierul (altar man) has 1/7. Then the diptychs for which every family is charged four crowns a year, I think that I compete (I would be entitled to) to a third; however, I did not get any part. From the Church revenue in cash to me nothing is solvește. Priest should have întregire de congruă (completion of salary) from the minimum amount of 800 crowns annually”⁴⁷. The cantor “cannot claim stolă because along with closing the Greek-Catholic religious school the instrumentul dotațional lost its value and has no binding power”⁴⁸.

The main real estate of parish consists of sesiile parohiale (allotments). They included dotațiunea preoțească (priestly dowry, gift) and dotațiunea bisericească

Of the above, the words employed including religious language found in common speech of those who used them. To a small extent, some mentioned archaisms are in use today, especially in rural areas of Mintia and Bejan, being found at native speakers who learned them "by hearing" from their parents. Others, such as from Fabric district of Timisoara, are far from finding their use nowadays due to the evolution and development of the Romanian language. However all have a personalized, specific and unique character (and why not? even attractive) from times that are already gone. But they still retain their charm of the old dialect used by few speakers in Transylvania and Banat...
